

What it is

A collaboration between Sheffield Hallam University and Impact VR that uses VR you help rehabilitate children with upper limb injuries.

The system gamifies upper arm movement through climbing and archery challenges that have been designed to ensure a broad range of movement.

